FREE Lead Renovation, Repair, and Painting (RRP) Certification Course!

Canton, NY— The St. Lawrence County Public Health Department will be hosting a free lead renovation, repair, and painting (RRP) certification course on Tuesday, March 24th from 9am – 6pm at the Human Services Building in Canton. The training is taught by Arthur Wheaton, the director of Western NY Labor and Environmental Program for the Worker Institute at Cornell University.

The Lead Renovator training is 8 contact hours with classroom and hands-on-activities and an exam. Typical trainees are homeowners/property owners/managers, building trades, contractors and their employees, or those who would like to use the certification to obtain work in the construction industry.

Registration is required for the course and can be done by calling 315-229-3404 or emailing bconklin@stlawco.org. For more information on the course please contact the Public Health Department at 315-386-2325.
